

Texas Society for Public Health Education (TSOPHE) Sponsorship Letter

August 14, 2017

Partners, Colleagues, Supporters and Friends,

We invite you to join us at the TSOPHE 2017 Annual conference!

TSOPHE is a vehicle that advocates as one voice for the health education needs of Texas. Our organization brings our collective forces together by collaborating with organizations that serve Texas' interests and needs in public health education.

We are partnering with Baylor University to host the TSOPHE 2017 Annual Conference in Waco, TX at the Paul L. Foster Center for Business and Innovation. The theme of this year's conference is "Advancing Population Health through Diversity, Innovation, and Collaboration." The purpose of this conference is to promote evidence-based programs and strategies that are effective in improving the health status in Texas. We hope to provide our participants with an opportunity to broaden their knowledge and skills in health education through interactive sessions, panels, and poster presentations.

The conference will begin on Thursday evening with a social hour event on October 5th, 5:00 pm – 6:30 pm. On Friday, October 6th, we will host the oral and poster presentations from 9:00 am - 4:00 pm. We expect 100-200 attendees comprised of health educators, public health professionals, faculty members and students. There will be breakfast, lunch, and giveaways—including TSOPHE bags for first 50 conference attendees.
